

Debamitra Kar has been teaching in this college since 2010. She received her PhD Degree for her thesis on ‘Conflict Zone Literature’ from the Dept of English, University of Calcutta in 2019. Her area of interest includes New Historicism, Conflict and peace studies, Trauma and memory literature, and Performance Theory. She has presented papers at both national and international seminars and has published articles in scholarly journals. She has received a UGC travel grant to present paper in the 9th Pan-European conference in Internal Relations, held in Sicily, from 23-26 September, 2015. She has also prepared modules for the UG English general and honours courses of Netaji Subhash Open University and for the UGC e-pathsala project.